Web Links for Family Services and Children’s Mental Health Collaboratives

Family Services and Children’s Mental Health Collaboratives constitute one of the most wide-ranging interagency initiatives in the state of Minnesota. Through these partnerships there is the opportunity to integrate services for children and their families across the various service sectors involved in children’s lives: schools, counties, corrections, public health, mental health, community agencies, among others. Because there are a number of other initiatives that are trying to collaborate and bridge the gaps in the child-service systems, it is important that collaboratives know about and connect with them. The following is a list of web links to some of the state-wide, publicly funded initiatives for children and families that are promoting collaboration. The list also contains portals to information regarding services to children and their families in Minnesota. This is a basic, by no means comprehensive, list of resources and information that may help your collaborative maximize partnerships and further develop an integrated service system for your community.
